

ROMANIC REVIEW 107.1–4
JANUARY–NOVEMBER 2016

A TRIBUTE TO GITA MAY
(1929–2016)

Mary McAlpin and Alexandra Wettlaufer, Special Editors

Avant-Propos	MARY MCALPIN AND ALEXANDRA WETTLAUFER	1
IN REMEMBRANCE OF GITA MAY
Gita May: A Life	PIERRE FORCE	3
On Reading Gita May's Last Book	DOMINIQUE JULLIEN	13
Gita May, a Belated Tribute	CLAUDIE BERNARD	17
Homage to Gita May: A Woman of Valor	BARBARA ABRAMS	19
In the Footsteps of Gita May	KAREN SULLIVAN	21
ARTICLES IN HONOR OF GITA MAY
Trouble in Argus City: Peacocking, Invisibility, and Masculinity	MARGARET WALLER	25
Britannicus or the Secrets of Space	RONALD W. TOBIN	47
The Rape of Roxane and the End of the World in Montesquieu's Lettres persanes	MARY MCALPIN	57
George Sand, George Eliot, and the Politics of Difference	ALEXANDRA WETTLAUFER	77
Crying into Print: Sentimental Reading, Spiritual Exaltation, and Typographic Standardization	GEOFFREY TURNOVSKY	103

BEAUVOIR, LEDUC, WITTIG: FEMINISM'S ABJECT SELVES

Elisabeth Ladenson, Special Editor

Editor's Introduction	ELISABETH LADENSON	127
Female Friendship as a Literary Fact	ANN JEFFERSON	137
Simone de Beauvoir et Violette Leduc : retour sur un parallèle biaisé de l'histoire littéraire	JEAN-LOUIS JEANNELLE	153
La bonne, la brute et la truande	ÉLISABETH LEOVICI	173
Fragments of Future History: On Violette Leduc	ÉDOUARD LOUIS	193
Playing with Variables: Leduc au village	MICHAEL LUCEY	199
My Friend Monique	JEANINE PARISIER PLOTTEL	215
BOOKS RECEIVED		217