

ROMANIC REVIEW 105.1-2

January-March 2014

SPECIAL ISSUE: A Tribute to Philip Watts

Edited by Vincent Debaene and Richard J. Golsan

Avant-propos

Vincent Debaene and Richard J. Golsan

Remembering World War II: Its Precedents and Legacies (Richard J. Golsan, editor)

Introduction

Richard J. Golsan

Interrogation de Drieu La Rochelle: le poète témoin et l'illusion lyrique

Marc Dambre

Roland Barthes, lecteur de Paul Chack?

Antoine Compagnon

From Photography to Social Cinema: Éli Lotar, Aubervilliers
and a Sense of Place

Steven Ungar

The Poetics and Perils of "Faction": Contemporary French
Fiction and the Memory of World War II

Richard J. Golsan

The Stakes in Holocaust Representation: On Tarantino's
Inglourious Basterds

Susan Rubin Suleiman

Interview with Laurent Binet

Philip Watts and Richard J. Golsan

Interview with Henri Rousso

Philip Watts and Richard J. Golsan

Tributes to Philip Watts (Vincent Debaene, editor)

Reading (with) Phil Watts

Vincent Debaene

Reading Phil Watts on Les Bienveillantes

Richard J. Golsan

Watts, Reader of Rancière

Kristin Ross

Literary Attention: The Hairy Politics of Details

Yves Citton

Philip Watts Editor/Edited

Richard Watts

Remembering Phil

Alice Kaplan

Camus and Film

Philip Watts