Avant-propos

Remembering World War II: Its Precedents and Legacies (Richard J. Golsan, editor)

Introduction

Interrogation de Drieu La Rochelle: le poète témoin et l’illusion lyrique

Roland Barthes, lecteur de Paul Chack?

From Photography to Social Cinema: Éli Lotar, Aubervilliers

and a Sense of Place

The Poetics and Perils of “Faction”: Contemporary French Fiction and the Memory of World War II

The Stakes in Holocaust Representation: On Tarantino’s Inglourious Basterds

Interview with Laurent Binet

Interview with Henri Rousso

Tributes to Philip Watts (Vincent Debaene, editor)

Reading (with) Phil Watts

Reading Phil Watts on Les Bienveillantes

Watts, Reader of Rancière

Literary Attention: The Hairy Politics of Details

Philip Watts Editor/Edited

Remembering Phil

Camus and Film